OSTEOPATHS ARE BARRED FROM ARMY PRACTICE

EVEN THOUGH SOLDIERS PREFER THIS TREATMENT IT IS REFUSED TO THEM.

Quite a good deal of interest has been taken locally by the friends of and people who believe in osteopathic treatment for disease in the knowledge which has just recently come to light that the physicians who practice osteopathy are barred from practicing in the army camps and cantonments. There is a bill before the house at the present time which would if passed, compel the army medical heads to allow your boy or your friends to have osteopathic treatment if they preferred it to regular medical treatment. Just why the osteopathic physicians are excluded from army practice is not known, but it seems to be prejudice on the part of the army medical profession against the osteopathic profession.

Below is given a comparative schedule showing the number of hours study given to certain subjects at both medical and osteopathic colleges.

Subjects	Medical Colleges	Osteopathic Colleges
Histology	171	188
Anatomy	489	696
Physiology	349	279
Embryology	72	52
Chemistry	284	288
Pathology	405	342
Bacteriology	157	154
Diagnosis	145	201
Hygiene	66	119
Gynecology	131	135
Genito-Urinary	42	48
Surgery	549	489
Obstetrics	196	172
Jurisprudence	13	25
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat	187	154
Pediatrics	123	60
Dermatology	41	50
Orthopedics	71	62
Psychiatry	160	155
Symptomatology	131	653
	4170	4322
Therapeutic Subjects:
Pharmacology	119	18
Materia Medica	33	15
Therapeutics	90	454
Electives, etc.	109	Technique 158
	4121	4952

The above comparison shows that the Osteopathic colleges give a course the equal of that of medical colleges whose graduates are accepted by the surgeon-general without question.

On suggestion of the chairman of one of the advisory committees of the medical department, several medical examining boards admitted osteopathic physicians to the regular examinations for entrance to the Medical Corps.

The records show that the grades made by them were highly satisfactory to the boards which recommended them to the Medical department for commissions. In every instance the commission was refused because the applicant had the degree D. O. instead of M. D.

Roosevelt recommends osteopathy: December 12, 1917.

My Dear Doctor: I wish the American Osteopathic association all success in its efforts to secure for osteopathic physicians the right to serve their country in the army and navy. I am sorry that licensed osteopathic physicians who have passed the medical examining board examinations for commissions have not received them. I am glad that the American Osteopathic association is patriotically endeavoring, without cost to the men, to give them osteopathic care in the camps and cantonments. I earnestly hope that congress will pass legislation enabling osteopathic physicians to serve their country in the capacity for which they are best fitted.

I write on the subject with knowledge. Two of the member of my family have been treated with great profit to themselves for years by osteopathic physicians. One of these is now with our army in France. It would be to his great advantage if he could have occasional osteopathic treatments and I am genuinely concerned that he is unable to get them. To give osteopathic physicians the chance to serve the army in the country as you desire would be a very real benefit. With all good wishes, faithfully yours,

Theodore Roosevelt.

Friends of Dr. F. D. Harrison and others who prefer osteopathic treatment to other kinds are writing in to president Wilson, White House, Washington, D. C., Senator Wm. Alden Smith, Senate room 411, Washington, D. C., and Senator Chas. E. Townsend, Senate room 409, Washington, D. C., also to Hon. Joseph W. Fordney, House office room 499b, Washington, D. C., in the effort to have the proposed law passed and in case you have a son, brother or friend in the service who would prefer osteopathic treatment to other methods, it is up to you to write to these gentlemen at the addresses given following their names.

Yes, Gladys, the pen is greater than the sword, particularly considering the price of bacon, the pig-pen.

VOTE FOR COOK AND BREAK THE RING.

To the voters of Ionia County:
"Winning the War" is the uppermost thought in the minds of every patriotic citizen and for that reason I have not felt justified in spending months of time and money campaigning for county office. I request that you look up my record, and ask your support.

If elected, I will give Ionia county a clean, business-like administration. I stand squarely for right, justice and a square deal.

I will enforce the law without fear or favor.

I have had years of experience, I know the criminal class, their ways, and how to handle them.

I understand the Federal work now connected with the sheriff's office.

I have made no promises and will appoint able and efficient deputies.

I will go on a salary and turn all fees to the county at the supervisors' request.

A letter from Otis Fuller, Warden Michigan Reformatory, to Ed. D. Engemann, Belding, Mich.:

"Dear Sir: I have your favor of July 17 inquiring about the character, habits and general social standing of Henry J. Cook, and about the length of time of his employment in Michigan Reformatory."

"In reply thereto, I take pleasure in informing you that I found Mr. Cook on the official staff of this institution when I came here more than 24 years ago and I believe he had at that time been here about three years. Mr. Parrell, my predecessor, recommended him to me as one of his best officers, and during the last quarter of a century I have found him to be a man of the highest character, exemplary habits, high intelligence and of first-class standing in every respect in the community."

"He has been assistant warden for several years, one of the most responsible positions in the institution, and he has been one of my most able and satisfactory officers."

"Very truly yours,

(Adv.) "Otis Fuller, Warden."

get the training though. I would like to write Uncle Ralph and Aunt Isa a letter but I can hardly find time to write to you. I am way behind. Will send them all cards when I get where so I can buy some. I got a dandy letter from Clifford Inslay about a week ago.

Yes, I got my retainer check o. k. If you don't mind the trouble it will make you I will be glad to have you take care of my allotment and the money I will be sending from time to time.

I don't have much chance to spend money any more and maybe it just as well. You can invest it in W. S. S. or whatever you think best. I'll leave it to you and be thankful. I can't get over those apples. If you can send me some more and take the cost out of my money I will sure be grateful. Apples here cost from 5 cents to a dime each and then there don't taste like Michigan apples either.

Would like some winter apples such as Spies, Baldwins and most any kind.

Tell Eulia thanks for the pictures and that I'll write her a letter before long.

My eyes hurt me so that I have just got to get some sleep. So just remember I don't get a chance to write very often and don't worry if it's a long time before you hear from me again. I'll write whenever I can. As ever,

Fred.

They are also in receipt from a card and letter from their son, Adelbert, who is a sailor on board the United States steamship, America, which recently sunk at her dock at New York As will be noticed from the card, Adelbert and Lewis Granger met and had a good time doing New York recently.

Hello Sis: Lewis Granger and I had a fine time over in N. Y. last night. It was his first sight of the city. We took in a show then put up at War Camp club for the rest of the night. This a. m. I met a shipmate who said our ship had sunk at the pier so I came back to Newark. With love, from,

Adelbert.

In Y at Hoboken, Oct. 16, 1918.

Dear Mother and All:

Just a few lines to explain the situation of the U. S. S. America and myself. The night of the 14th she started to list to the port side a little then started to sink. In less than 3 minutes she was only two decks above water, stuck in the mud and there she lay. The advance guard of the troops that were to sail with us today were the only soldiers aboard, about 200 over 20 are unaccounted for and two of our crew also. I was over to the city on a 48 and did not come back till this morning. When the tide went out we could get to our bunks and bunks in the forward quarters. We took off our shoes and waded to our knees in the water to get our things. I was one of the lucky ones to be farthest forward in a top bunk. The water had not reached them. There are 30 divers working on her now investigating the cause of the sinking, about 480 this is the first soldier's body was found. Don't think all of the bodies will be recovered until most of the water is pumped out.

This accident may mean a furlough as it will be some time before the boat will be put in running condition again.

Our crew is now quartered on another small transport across the dock from ours. We are quartered in its troop space at present. May be transferred to a barracks in the yards nearby hereafter.

Well I must find a shower and dust off a little bit as I feel like a crumbly crumb.

I got Hazel's letter tonight telling of the three Belding boys' deaths. Please don't worry about me for I am feeling fine, tipping the scales at 167. Just good fighting trim.

Will close, from your son and brother,

Adelbert.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Joe Tower had business in Greenville Saturday.

Fred Sauer returned from Bangor Monday.

Miss Esther Hoffman is very ill with the flu.

Lou Shrader, a former resident of this vicinity, but for the last few years located near Clarksville, is holding an auction at his farm there and is getting ready to move up on the Charles Rowlo farm four miles north of Kiddleville. Mr. Shrader and family have many friends who will be glad to see them once more residents of this vicinity.

Chas. Wiggins has moved from the Crawford farm to the Belding farm to work for W. P. Hetherington.

Surprised Mrs. Sprague.

Mrs. Etta Sprague was completely surprised Monday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clellie Hoover, when a company of Ionia people drove over to help celebrate her birthday. The party consisted of Mrs. Will Yeomans, Miss Florence and Miss Marjorie Yeomans, Mrs. Bessie Strong and Mrs. Emma Stoddard.
